Our Honor Roll of Bulbs

So often during a season flower gardeners ask us for advice on varieties of bulbs to plant. Catalog descriptions are necessarily brief and we are always glad to give any additional information that will be of help. Over a period of years we have kept a record of the number of bulbs sold in the different varieties of DAFFODILS, TULIPS, HEMEROCALLIS and LILIES. This record is to guide us in our own planting but it occurred to us when making up our catalog that it might also be of interest and assistance to our customers. We are calling this issue our Honor Roll Catalog and you will find the most popular varieties in special type. If you are a new gardener we hope this will help you in making your selections. If you already have some of these varieties in your garden it will perhaps add to your pleasure to know that many other gardeners are enjoying the same beautiful flowers.

MAY WE INTRODUCE—

The JAMES R. DAWSONS, new members of the Wilshire Gardens family. Wilshire Gardens business has grown and expanded in the last few years to the point where we needed someone to share responsibility and to help in keeping things running smoothly. Mr. Dawson, a graduate botanist from the University of Washington, spent 5 ½ years in the army during World War II, at the time of his discharge holding the rank of Major. He also spent 2 ½ years as an assistant professor at the University.

BULBS FOR ROCKGARDENS

Rockgardens, so popular the last few years, can be made much more attractive by the use of bulbs properly selected and planted. The dwarf plants such as Moss Phlox, Sedum, Thyme, Sempervivum and Dianthus are most colorful in May. If Crocus, Muscari, dwarf Iris, Leucojum, Miniature Daffodils, Species Tulips, and other bulbous varieties are used in the planting, blooms may be had beginning with the first spring day. A further extension of color may be obtained by using some of the dwarf varieties of Hemerocallis which flower in June and July. Deep well drained pockets of soil are required for planting the bulbs as most varieties need a rest period after blooming. They should be left undisturbed for years, and if happy, will soon establish themselves and afford a lovely picture in early spring. We have made up two collections of bulbs suitable for rock garden planting as shown below. Other varieties may be found on other pages of the catalog, also more complete descriptions of the varieties listed below.

DUTCH IRIS

DUTCH IRIS

The Dutch Iris we are offering are DeGraaff Hybrids, an improved form of the old Dutch Iris. They are distinguished by a narrow orange stripe on the falls instead of the large blotch found on the older varieties. They are also superior in color and substance. In extreme climates they seem to need some protection although they do quite well as far north as New York. On the west coast and in the south they are absolutely hardy. They are also good for forcing in pots.

BLUE HORIZON—Standards light violet-blue, falls lighter blue, narrow yellow stripe. Large flower.

Per doz. 90c

D. HARING—Standards greyish white, falls pure white; very large flower of good substance.

Per doz. 90c

IMPERATOR—A uniform deep blue. Flowers late. Fine for forcing.

Per doz. 90c

WHITE EXCELSIOR—Uniform pure white, falls very broad, good form and substance. Good for forcing.

Per doz. $1.10

YELLOW QUEEN—Uniform golden yellow. Blooms late.

Per doz. 70c

IRIS RETICULATA

Large bulbs: 3 for 65c, per doz. $2.25

HEMEROCALLIS - Daylilies

Hemerocallis are becoming more and more popular now that flower gardeners are realizing how much color they can add to their garden with a minimum of care and expense. Hemerocallis thrives in any type of soil, in full sun or part shade. No spraying or dusting is required as they have no pests, and the clumps need to be divided only every three or four years.

We know of no flowers that require so little care and give pleasure over such a long season. The roots may be planted at any time, although early fall or spring planting will give the best results. For quickest effect plant in groups of three. Our Hemerocallis Bulletin will give you exact planting instructions.

Holly

Again this year we are justly proud to present our Holly and Assorted Christmas Greens. We grow and market the "French" strain of English Holly. This strain is, we believe, the finest grown. The leaves are heavy and dark green with a smooth waxy sheen. They resist drying and curling even after prolonged periods indoors. The bright red berries seem to sparkle in contrast to their dark background. Our Assorted Christmas Greens include native cedar, silvered salal, huckleberry and other evergreen sprays as well as cones and plain and variegated Holly. This season, Holly will be marketed as follows:

HARDY LILIES

In our list of Lilies you will find varieties of many colors, of varying heights and blooming time. It is possible to have Lilies blooming in your garden from late May until October. Lily bulbs are not ready to ship all at one time. Please note in the descriptions of each variety, CANDIDUM must be planted in early September while Auratum is not ready until late November or early December and may have to be planted the following spring. Our Lily Bulletin No. 5 gives planting instructions for these and other varieties. It will be sent with your order.

AURATUM (Gold-banded Lily)—Large white bowl-shaped flowers are carried on stems 4 to 6 feet tall. Each of the six petals of the flower has a gold stripe down the center and is also heavily spotted with crimson. Has a wonderful fragrance. Blooms in August. These are hybrids from especially vigorous stock and free from virus diseases.

Top size bulbs: Each $2.65

AURELIAN HYBRIDS—These grand Lilies are the result of many years of patient hybridization, selection and propagation by a Northwest Lily hybridist. Many thousands of crosses have been made resulting in a distinctly different and beautiful strain of trumpet and semi-trumpet Lilies in white, ivory, cream and sulphur tones. We are very happy to present these this season to lovers of beautiful Lilies. Blooming time is July and early August.

Large bulbs: Each $2.50, doz. $25.00

BELLINGHAM HYBRIDS — These are hybrids from the crossings of many forms of west coast native lilies. All of them are handsome, brilliantly colored plants in shades of yellow and orange.

Each 75c, doz. $7.50

CANDIDUM (Madonna Lily) — One of oldest lilies in cultivation and one of the most popular. Because these lilies form a rosette of leaves in early fall they MUST be planted in late August or early September. Beautiful blossoms of pure white; blossoms upturned and many on a stem. Very fragrant. Blooming time late June. Order early.

Top Size bulbs: Each 90c, doz. $9.00

Large bulbs: Each 70c, doz. $7.00

Medium bulbs: Each 40c, doz. $4.00

L. CANDIDUM (Cascade Strain)—This is a new strain of Madonna lily developed over a period of years from the best in foreign and American strains. It is unusual in that it sets seed freely and is greatly resistant to Botrytis. The bulbs should be planted not later than the 15th of September as their dormant period is very short.

Top Size bulbs individually wrapped: Each $1.00

CENTIFOLIUM — Immense white trumpets borne on stem 6 to 8 feet in height. When established may have as many as 25 blooms on a stem. The plant is named Centifolium because of its abundant foliage.

Top size bulbs: Each 35c, per doz. $3.50

FIESTA HYBRIDS—These are crosses of the famous lilies introduced by Miss Preston. Stems are tall and erect and carry a large group of rich orange-vermilion flowers, some of which are spotted and some plain. All inferior plants have been rogued out and the resulting strain is very vigorous and robust.

Top size bulbs: Each $2.50

FORMOSANUM—A late blooming white lily. The flowers are similar in shape to the Regal lily but more slender; the outside of the petals is suffused with a deep rose coloring; stems four to six feet and with several blossoms on each stem.

Each 25c, doz. $2.50

HENRYI—A hardy vigorous lily very easy to grow. Does well in any light or medium garden soil. Height up to 8 feet in a well established planting with as many as 20 blooms to a stem. The color is deep orange-yellow and blooming time August-September.

Each 50c, doz. $5.00

L. MARTIGON ALBUM—The pure white form of the Martigon lily so popular in Europe and England. The dainty waxy flowers are gracefully placed and form a symmetrical pyramid on 4-ft. stems. One of the most permanent of all lilies. Once it is happily settled it will increase from year to year, forming larger and finer spikes. Plant not deeper than 4 inches in a well drained sunny location.

Top Size bulbs: Each $2.25

MAXWILL — A brilliant orange-red lily blooming in July. The stem is from five to six feet with as many as 20 blooms after the bulb becomes established. Very robust.

Each 35c, 3 bulbs for $1.00, per doz. $3.50
